Hats vs. Daguerreotypes.—The beautiful trab beaver and pearl felt hat, manufactured and sold by AFFERTY & LEASK, at their usual low price of $3$ and $4$, would seem quite enough to insure the fame and fortune famy hatter; but the introduction of the Daguerreotype theness of every person who buys one of their immitable tasts is a new feature, and belongs solely to them. Call ask get one of these hats, and have your daguerreotype inserted at these of charge. RAFFERTY & LEASK, 57 Chatham street, opposite Chambers street, and on the corner of Chatamam and Pearl streets.

The Late Accident at the Hippodrome.—The Howing letter, from Miss Taylor's attendant physician, was ceived on Tuesday last by the proprietors of the Hippodrame :— Mr. H. Franconi.—Dear Sir—Perhaps you may be misled by the statement in the Times of this moraing, which states that the girl is terribly burned about her breast and arms, and that, being worse, she is unable to move. This is not the case. The parts burned are her arms, thighs and back; but she is very comfortable, and, I think, with proper attention, she will recover. Yours, truly, Connsel for the Feeble, and Important Suggestions for the health.—Morse's Invigorating Blixir or Coroial.—The great strongth sustaining and health renewing preparation introduced by Dr. M. Morse, the celebrated Oriental traveller and chemist, has become so well known throughout this country and Europe, that no physician, who values his reputation, would venture to admit himself ig acrant of its extraordinary properties, or think of questioning its wonderful cures.

Driental traveller and chemist, has become so well known throughout this country and Europe, that no physician, who values his reputation, would venture to admit himself igaorant of its extraordinary properties, or think of questioning its wonderful cures.

The prominent position occupied by Dr. Morse in the enisatine world is a guarantee of the value of any invention or discovery which bears the stamp of his approval, and in this instance, an invigorant is offered to the world, the ingredients of which he was the first to enlist in the science of medical art, and which the faculty in England. Scatiand, France, Prussis, and Belgium, have declared to be the only stimulant known that exhilerates and strengthens the system, without entailing the relaxation and depression which have herotofore been supposed to be the necessary consequences of using artificial means to increase the amount of vital energy in the human system. There are, therefore, solid grounds for pronouncing the introuncien of Morse's invigorating Elizir or C. reini, the great medical event of the nic eteenth contury. SECURITY OF PASSENGERS.—STEAMBOAT LAW.—

STEURITY OF PASSENGERS.—STEAMBOAT LAW.—

The undersigned is prepared to furnish fenders, made of cork and canvass. of sufficient buoyant power to enable steamboat owners to convert the wood boats in use into life boats, to comply with the steamboat law. It is well known that India rubber floats possess but little merit for such a uss, from their great liability to be punctured, or even destroyed by heat. While the cork fender is not affooted in like manner, the buoyancy depending upon the lightness of the cork, not upon sir, as is the case with India rubber. The cork fenders are more reliable, durable and countries! and have been more reliable, durable and collins steamers. They can easily be repaired by ordinary seamen. The cort is less than one-half the India rubber. All orders directed to the undersigned will be puscually stended to. H. BENNETT. 394 West streets. New York.
